Unabated Expressway ROBBERY

- Four bike-borne men chase car for 8 kms on Expressway last night.
- Midnight robbery attempt fails as the daring driver rams the car against highway robbers' bike; incident near Tubinakere.
- Southern Range DIGP to form special teams; regular, intensified patrolling to be conducted after 7 pm.

The car that the highway robbers tried to waylay (left) and the damage (in red circle) the car suffered when it hit the bike and drove away to escape.

Mysuru, July 13 (BLU&BCT)- An attempted robbery on Mysuru-Bengaluru Expressway, last night has been reported. It is learnt the incident took place last midnight at a place after Tubinakere in the premises of Mandya Industrial Area, before the Gananguru Toll Plaza while the car was coming from Bengaluru.

However, the attempted robbery was foiled by an alert driver of the car Srikanth who was heading towards Mysuru from Bengaluru.

According to Bapu Lingaraj Urs, one of the passengers in the car, they started from Bengaluru at 10.30 pm yesterday in their Hyundai Accent car and accompanying him was Girish and Srikanth. As they reached the Mandya Industrial Area in the surroundings of Tubinakere at around 12.15 am, a bullet bike with four men on it intercepted the car.

When the driver of the car spotted the bike-borne men, three of them sitting behind the rider of the bike, holding machetes and metal rods and covering their faces with towels, the car driver knew the danger and began to drive fast.

However, the robbers relentlessly pursued the car shouting at the occupants to stop the vehicle. The bike tried to overtake the car from the left but because of the traffic it could not overtake us.

However, the chase continued for over 8 kms and the frustrated criminals started to hit the front of the car with the rod.

At one point, the bike almost overtook the car. However, showing presence of mind, the driver of the car turned left, ramming against the speeding bike. The criminals lost their balance and had to stop their bike near an underpass. Moving a little ahead, the occupants of the car noticed another Hero Honda bike lay in wait for them.

EDITOR'S BOTTOMLINE

Large parts of North India have been badly hit by nature's fury, with heavy rains and flooding sowing destruction in many regions and killing at least 40 people and causing heavy loss of property. Landslides and flash floods have washed away houses, buildings, bridges and vehicles. Many parts of Delhi have been affected with the Yamuna rising and rainwater inundating roads and residential areas. The worst hit region is Himachal Pradesh, which received more than 10 times its average rainfall for this time of the year. Heavy rains have lashed other States, too. Kerala is facing not only heavy rains but erosion of its shoreline by the sea. Meteorologists have attributed the present torrential rains to a confluence of cyclonic storms, called western disturbances, with the monsoon winds and have predicted that they will continue for some days. The rain deficit in June has been more than made up by the heavy rains this month.

But the continuing disaster is as much human-made as it is caused by climate change. In the first place, climate change is itself the result of human actions over the past many decades. The pressure of infrastructure-building in environmentally sensitive Himalayan foothills has majorly contributed to the flooding and other natural disasters in the area. No effective steps have been taken to make cities and other urban centres resilient to disasters and to equip them suitably. That is the case with the national capital, too. Lessons were not learnt from the recent floods in Uttarakhand and Kerala and in cities like Chennai, Bengaluru, Hyderabad, Kolkata and Mumbai. Disaster prevention and management plans need to be updated, reformulated, and better implemented in the face of the new requirements and challenges. Climate change is here and now. Our policies and actions have to orient to climate adaptation and resilience urgently. — In Deccan Herald

Visitors asked to stop showing videos to gorillas

Toronto: The Toronto Zoo is asking visitors to help limit screen time for certain primates by refraining from showing cellphone videos to the facility's gorillas.

The zoo posted signs outside the gorilla enclosure asking visitors not to use their phones to show photos or videos to the gorillas "as some content can be upsetting and affect their relationships and behaviour within their family."

Hollie Ross, behavioral husbandry supervisor at the zoo, said keepers have not yet noticed any significant behavioral changes in the primates, but officials want to ensure the animals' lives remain as natural as possible.

Officials said gorilla named Nassir has been seen showing a particular interest in the videos on visitors' phones.

Mermaids perform underwater music at festival

Florida: Divers donned mermaid tails and ventured underwater with musical instruments for the 39th annual Lower Keys Underwater Music Festival at Looe Key Reef in Florida.

The Florida Keys & Key West said in a Facebook post that the undersea concert featured the mermaid performers miming with their instruments while real music was pumped into the area via underwater speakers by US1Radio.

The songs played under the water during the mock concert included "Yellow Submarine" by The Beatles, "Fins" by Jimmy Buffet" and songs from the films Pirates of the Caribbean and The Little Mermaid.

The annual event raises awareness of the need to protect Looe Key Reef, an area of the NOAA Florida Keys National Marine Sanctuary.

VOICE OF THE READER

An appeal to CM Siddharamaiah about developing Mysuru

Sir,

This refers to KBG's Abracadabra titled "Budget Bonanza for Mysuru" in Star of Mysore dated July 8. In connection with the two major problems (KBG has mentioned) our city is facing and which needs Government's immediate attention, I would like to state as follows:

Siddharamaiah

1. I had written an e-mail dated 15th January this year regarding Lalitha Mahal Palace to former Chief Minister of Karnataka Basavaraj Bommai, to which there was no response. I once again wrote to the new Chief Minister Siddharamaiah on 10th June (last month) for which I received a response on 7th July (this month). My husband and I are also in touch with a few of the GM's of Taj Hotels in India and one of the Directors and have requested them to push this matter with their higher-ups.

I had also written to Mr. Vikram Oberoi, Director of Oberoi Hotels and Ranvir Bhandari, General Manager of Trident, Mumbai, about Lalitha Mahal Palace Hotel. This wonderful Palace needs to be taken over by either Taj, Oberoi or ITC Hotels as soon as possible (ASAP) as it is in a very bad condition and is not looked after at all by the Government. Unfortunately I do not know anyone in ITC.

2. The vegetable and fruit market on MG Road poses a very big threat to health, hygiene, pedestrians and motorists. Due to all the discarded vegetables strewn around by the vendors, a lot of cattle roam around the entire area throughout the day and night. They feed on rotting vegetables, loiter around and create a nuisance for pedestrians and motorists. This is also a health hazard as a lot of garbage collects there, which contributes to mosquito breeding and insects.

The vendors and suppliers park their tempos and trucks in such a way that vehicles trying to drive through are totally obstructed. Since there is namesake median on that road, vehicles drive against the traffic and create more chaos and congestion. There is also a filthy nullah (nala) on this road. This market should be permanently relocated ASAP. There are many other issues plaguing our city. The number of stray cattle in the city has increased. They roam all over the city and create garbage, traffic snarls and they are very dangerous to motorists, bikers, buses and pedestrians.

Reckless driving, driving against traffic, overtaking, violating rules of traffic lights and driving while talking on mobile phones must be checked by 24x7 Police beat. Drivers just do not follow traffic rules. Mobile phone is the major cause of daily accidents and deaths. This is the most important cause of accidents and deaths on the new Mysuru-Bengaluru Expressway also.

A lot of traffic lights are not functioning or are switched off. This is also another cause of accidents. Of course, even with the traffic lights working, drivers do not adhere to road discipline.

The condition of roads is absolutely pathetic. Most of them have deep potholes which makes it extremely difficult for motorists, buses and bikers, especially after dark. Pavement blocks too are fixed very unevenly which makes it cumbersome for pedestrians to walk on.

Having Disneyland at KRS is a very bad idea. The Deputy Chief Minister and others involved in this project should realise that it is extremely dangerous for the environment. Also, roller-coaster rides, if not engineered properly will be very dangerous. Disneyland requires highly skilled people to run it and look after it. We live near JSS Hospital where monkey menace is unbearable.

I have brought up ALL these issues in Star of Mysore but the authorities concerned have turned a Nelson's eye. It is high time, the Chief Minister, Deputy Chief Minister and other authorities awaken from their slumber and realise that Mysuru is deteriorating every day. How can we emulate Indore when our own people do not care for their city.

City Cops conduct special drive to rein in traffic offenders

Inspection drive stopped a month ago resumes; to be conducted daily, says Police Chief Ramesh Banoth

Mysuru, July 13 (MK&BS)- In the wake of increase in traffic offences, the City Police conducted special drive here last night.

City Police Commissioner Ramesh Banoth kick-started the drive by inspecting the vehicles near Shantaveri Gopalgowda Circle, along with jurisdictional Nazarbad Police.

With this, the inspection drive that had been stopped a month ago, has been resumed in the wake of rise in traffic-related offences like triple riding, helmetless riding, drunken driving, signal jump among several others.

The joint drive involving Law and Order and Traffic Policemen was conducted from 5 pm to 9 pm at prominent circles and roads here. Apart from intercepting the vehicles, spot fine was imposed and collected from the offenders.

City Police Commissioner Ramesh Banoth told Star of Mysore: "To give impetus to smooth flow of traffic, the inspection drive had been temporarily suspended and priority was given to book cases tracked through CCTV cameras. Taking advantage, the vehicle drivers were blatantly violating the traffic rules. Now, the drive has been resumed and will be held regularly from 5 pm to 9 pm."

DCP (Crime and Traffic) S. Jahnavi and ACP (Traffic) Parashuramappa were also present during the launching of the drive.

High Court issues guidelines to prevent human-animal conflict

Bengaluru, July 13 (TRR)- The Karnataka High Court has sought to address the pressing concerns surrounding human-animal conflict and promote better coexistence between humans and wildlife.

Disposing of a petition filed by the Karnataka Growers Federation, the Court issued essential guidelines to effectively manage the issue of human-animal conflict. As part of the directive, the Court has emphasised the establishment of Grievances Cells in each taluk.

Justice Prasanna B. Varale and Justice M.G.S. Kamal, in their ruling, have mandated that the State Government set up dedicated Grievances Cells in every taluk. These Cells will serve as a platform for affected individuals to report instances of forest animals encroaching upon human habitats. Additionally, the Court has instructed the creation of Elephant Corridors to facilitate the safe movement of elephants.

To mitigate the conflict between humans and animals, the High Court has outlined several measures in its guidelines. These include providing adequate human resources, vehicles and essential facilities to Forest Department personnel tasked with preventing such conflicts.

The establishment of 24x7 Control Rooms is also mandated, with the capacity to promptly issue warning messages to citizens residing in areas prone to animal invasions. Furthermore, these control rooms should maintain communication links with nearby health centres to ensure immediate medical care for individuals injured during the human-animal conflicts.

The guidelines also call for quarterly meetings among senior Forest officials to address the challenges associated with such conflicts and devise appropriate strategies.

Forest officials and Tahsildar are obligated to conduct meetings every two months and engage in discussions to tackle this issue effectively. The Court emphasised the importance of raising public awareness about the Grievances Cells through public announcements and notices displayed at all Gram Panchayats.

Wheelie and stunts on two-wheelers increasing

Mysuru, July 13 (MK&KS)- Despite Traffic Police creating awareness on the dangers of wheelie and stunts on two-wheelers, which could lead to fatal accidents, such incidents are increasing across the city calling for strict Police action.

Riders performing wheelie on the two-wheelers have increased on JLB Road, Narayana Shastri Road, Sayyaji Rao Road, Vidyaranyapuram Main Road, Outer Ring Road and also on roads near schools and colleges in the heart of the city. Also, triple and helmetless riding have increased.

To avoid getting caught on CCTV cameras installed at traffic signal light junctions, most of the riders cover the registration number plates of their two-wheelers or fix the number plate only at the back of their vehicles.

Over 60,000 cases registered: A whooping 60,474 traffic rules violation cases have been registered in June last through CCTV cameras and the number of cases may increase if Traffic Police conduct drives to end this menace.

Student's wheelie on N.S. Road: Yesterday afternoon, a student was seen performing wheelie on a bike in front of a school on Narayana Shastri (N.S.) Road causing tension to other motorists. The student, who initially performed wheelie alone for two to three times, carried his friend on pillion to perform wheelie on this busy road again giving tension to other motorists coming from the opposite direction. Public were seen cursing the student for not only putting his life at risk but also the lives of others.

LOOKING BACK...

A Memory of Music at the Mysore Court

Mysore has always been home to the arts; classical music, dance, painting, sculpture and more. Music was a prized accomplishment for girls in Karnataka. Lessons were started for quite young children. When at seventeen, I fell under the spell of music in 1955, it was considered a late start. But to my delight Sri Dasappa, a Carnatic (Karnatak) musician who had switched to the Hindustani style, agreed to teach me.

An interest in Hindustani music had been kindled in Mysore due to the patronage given by the Maharaja to famous musicians from North India. Maharaja Krishnaraja Wodeyar (Wadiyar) Bahadur [1884-1940] was himself a scholar, well versed in music which he appreciated in all its genres; Carnatic, Hindustani and Western alike. Maintaining an old family tradition, he honoured many scholars, painters, writers and musicians, both Carnatic & Hindustani, at his court.

In the 1920s, Ustad Faiyaz Khan, Ustad Vilayat Hussain Khan [vocalist], Vidushi Mogubai Kurdikar [Kishori Amonkar's mother] and Ustad Abdul Kareem Khan were invited to Mysore where local artistes could listen to their music and interact with them. Remembering the old days, my teacher Dasappa's eyes would mist over. "Hamare Guru Faiyaz Khan," he would exclaim, reverentially touching his ear lobes in salutation. His recall of the concerts, the leonine timber of the Guru's voice impressed me deeply.

On 1st August 1928, "Gauhar Jaan", a singer and dancer from the North was appointed Court Musician in Mysore. After her early and meteoric rise to fame in Calcutta, she was by then in her late 50s and on a downward spiral. She died in the Mysore Palace on 17th January 1930.

Born in Azamgarh in 1873, she was christened Angelina Yeoward. Her parents were Adeline Victoria Hemming and Robert William Yeoward who was of Armenian-Jewish descent. When the marriage broke up, Victoria Hemming relocated to Calcutta and converted to Islam. She changed her name to Badi Malka Jaan and that of her daughter, then a child, to Gauhar Jaan.

In Calcutta, Gauhar Jaan was trained by famous Ustads and became proficient in Hindustani vocal music of various styles. She also learnt Kathak from the legendary Bindadin Maharaj. By the age of fourteen she was an accomplished performer, winning accolades at the Darbar of Dharbhanga. She became very wealthy, adopting a flamboyant life style; opulent clothes, jewellery and a large retinue to serve her. She rode around Calcutta in a horse drawn carriage, usually preserve of the powerful elite, which gave her a particular cache.

In 1902, at the invitation of F.W. Gaisberg [an American] of the Gramophone Company, Gauhar Jaan became the first artiste to record a classical Hindustani song for a 78rpm record of two minutes and forty-five seconds. The recording technology was of German origin, but still rudimentary at that stage. The artiste had to sing into a large horn or trumpet fixed to the wall, a needle would oscillate, etching the music on a disc. Gauhar Jaan, dressed in a gorgeous ensemble, sang faultlessly into the horn, choosing a composition in the Raga Jogia for this historic event. She ended the recital with the announcement "My name is Gauhar Jaan," which became her trade mark. Many artistes followed her lead. When the recordings were processed in Hanover, Germany, this helped the technicians to identify the artistes.

Over the years, Gauhar Jaan recorded 600 songs in several languages, being paid Rs. 3,000 for each song. She became famous as the "Gramophone Girl" with a big fan following, her new releases were snapped up as soon as they were on sale. Her music is available now on the internet, retaining both the haunting quality of her voice and her virtuosity in the art.

An earlier photo of Gauhar Jaan in a pensive mood.

Traditionally, Indian artistes built up the Raga in an expansive form, followed by compositions set to rhythms. So Gauhar Jaan was criticised by her rivals and detractors for condensing the format into the two minutes and forty-five seconds allowed for recording. However, her genius lay in her intuitive depiction of the Raga's essence within a time frame; a cameo portrait confined in a pendant. Ustad Amjad Ali Khan is said to have recognised her invaluable role in his book, "Master on Masters."

Gauhar Jaan's foresight of using technology for the first time, freed music from the cloistered salons of courtesans or the exclusive homes of noblemen and made it available to the public. Women artistes too benefited from this access to a wider audience. Financial independence relieved them from bondage to exploitative patrons.

Gauhar Jaan's farsighted embracing of the new technology created an archival treasure in the annals of our music. Priceless historical evidence of different artistes and styles have been preserved which may otherwise have been lost in mists of obscurity.

According to the records, Gauhar Jaan died in the Mysore Palace on 17th January 1930. Sadly the place where she was buried is unknown. She had lost her mother earlier as well as a male companion who had been supportive. Mysore Palace records show that in her last days, she had only two care-givers left of her once large retinue; a woman called Sharifan and a man named Abdul Rehman.

Like a glittering sequin fallen from one of her robes, the Urdu word "Hamdam" shines from her life of stardom. This was the pen-name she used in the lyrics she composed and means "Friend" or "Companion"...sadly she had none in the end.

K.R. Hospital outsourced cleaning staff record their problems at grievances meet

Mysuru, July 13 (RK&DM)- As per the direction of the Karnataka Safai Karmachari Commission and under instruction from MMC&RI Dean and Director Dr. K.R. Dakshayani, K.R. Hospital Medical Superintendent Dr. B.L. Nanjundaswamy heard the grievances of outsourced cleaning and other staff of the Hospital at his chamber in the Hospital this morning.

The city's Srirama Enterprises has supplied 111 cleaning staff, Sri Ranganatha Enterprises - 60 security personnel (men and women), Surabhi Enterprises - 45 attenders and 34 scavengers to the Hospital under an outsourcing contract.

Dr. Nanjundaswamy asked the outsourced workers (totally 250 in number) on whether they were credited the agreed monthly salary in time, given uniforms, safety wears, gears and other equipment, given statutory benefits such as PF, ESI etc. They were also questioned about their working hours duration and whether they were overworked.

Most of the workers complained that they were paid low salaries and that they had to face public ire, abuse and insult in the Hospital premises for no fault of theirs. Some said they had little idea on whether they were credited with their PF etc., by their outsourcing agency which had employed them.

Dr. Nanjundaswamy recorded the statements of each of them, which shall be forwarded to the Safai Karmachari Commission, it is learnt. KR Hospital RMO (Resident Medical Officer) Dr. Rajesh, Administrative Officer Chandrakala and others were present.

Unabated Expressway Robbery

- Armed men rob Rs. 3.81 lakh from Mysuru couple on Mysuru-Bengaluru Expressway on Feb. 6, 2023.
- Two couples from Mysuru robbed of Rs. 2.58 lakh at knife-point on Mar. 13.
- Criminals posing as Police rob Rs. 3.5 lakh from a Kodagu resident on June 30.
- Robberies on the Expressway have increased exponentially. I have directed the Mandya SP to trace the criminals and bring them to book, Home Minister Dr. G. Parameshwara said in Mysuru on July 1.

"Seeing another bike trying to follow us, our driver accelerated. The other bike had two men and they could not match the speed of the car," the car travellers said.

After covering a few kilometres, the travellers called up 112, the Emergency Response Support System (ERSS) and registered a complaint.

According to the travellers, they were commuting on the main carriageway of the Expressway and were not using the service road. "The service roads wore a deserted look from both the sides. Looking at the way we were chased, we don't believe anyone would risk travelling on service roads as after the crime, the criminals can easily get away to any of the villages or towns along the service roads," the travellers added.

Tax Clinic to help tax-payers to file IT returns

In Mysuru, the 'Tax Clinic' took place at the ICAI branch premises in Bogadi. It was inaugurated by K. Devarathna Kumar, Principal Commissioner of Income Tax, Assessment Unit-1, Mysuru.

Present at the event were Kalpalatha Rajan, Joint Commissioner of Income Tax, Sangeetha Ananth, Joint Commissioner of Range 2, Satish Meriga, Commissioner of Appeals, ICAI Mysuru Chairman V. Raghavendra Rao, Secretary Uttam Padival and Treasurer Raghuveera.

This tax clinic is being conducted at 168 branches of ICAI across India, to spread tax awareness, promote tax compliance and assist tax-payers in resolving queries related to e-filing of Income Tax Returns (ITR).

The initiative serves as an outreach programme to create general awareness about Direct Tax Compliances, expand the tax base of the country and encourage voluntary filing of Tax Returns. Tax experts will be available solely to address queries and will not file IT returns at the Help Desk. Experts will offer free consultations on queries related to direct taxes. The service is free for the general public and will be helpful for those who have faced issues during the filing of their ITR.

Devarathna Kumar mentioned that there has been a recent increase in the number of youngsters filing their IT returns. This rise can be attributed to the growing awareness of the importance of filing IT returns, aided by Government campaigns, initiatives and social media efforts.

Furthermore, filing IT returns has become more convenient in recent years. The government has simplified the online filing process and there are various tax preparation software options available. This ease of use has enabled young people to file returns more easily, even without extensive tax experience.

During the facilitation initiative, tax experts Sathyanarayana Rao (Chartered Accountant and past Chairman of ICAI), M.C. Kumar (Chartered Accountant and past Chairman of ICAI) and Tarun Kotari (Chartered Accountant) addressed taxpayers' doubts.

Public may contact ICAI Mysuru Branch at Ph: 0821-2598000.

DIGP to form special teams; to increase patrolling

Dr. M.B. Boralingaiah

Mysuru, July 13 (BLU&BCT)- The Police are working to enhance the safety measures on the Mysuru-Bengaluru Expressway. This includes increasing their presence, conducting regular patrols and implementing surveillance systems to deter criminal activities and swiftly respond to any incidents.

Speaking to Star of Mysore this morning, Southern Range DIGP Dr. M.B. Boralingaiah said that the frequency of robberies is a matter of concern and many commuters fear of becoming targets of criminal activities.

"We will form special teams to crackdown on the robberies and at the same time, intensify the regular patrolling, especially after 7 pm. Efforts will be made to create awareness among commuters about the importance of following safety precautions and reporting any suspicious activities or incidents they encounter while travelling on the Expressway," he added.

Bommai hints at HDK as Opposition Leader

Bengaluru, July 13 (KMS&DM)- Even as the BJP is yet to name its Leader of the Opposition in the State Assembly, after two months of the declaration of the Assembly results with the Congress returning to power with a thumping majority, former BJP Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai has subtly hinted that JD(S) Legislature Party Leader H.D. Kumaraswamy (HDK) may become the Opposition Leader, should the JD(S) and the BJP strike a coalition shortly.

In an informal chat with presspersons during the ongoing Assembly Session yesterday, Bommai said that a National-level meet of Opposition parties under the leadership of former AICC President Sonia Gandhi is going to take place at Bengaluru on July 17 and 18.

As a counter, the BJP, as part of its plans to expand its NDA coalition ahead of next year's Lok Sabha polls, is also holding a meeting at Delhi on July 18, to bring all anti-Congress regional parties under the NDA and the JD(S) is likely to be a part of it in Karnataka, he said.

The BJP High Command is going to take a decision on the Opposition Leader in the Karnataka Assembly only after the July 18 NDA meeting, he noted adding that the speculation over HDK becoming the Opposition Leader of the BJP-JD(S) combine may become a reality only if the JD(S) formally joins the NDA coalition.

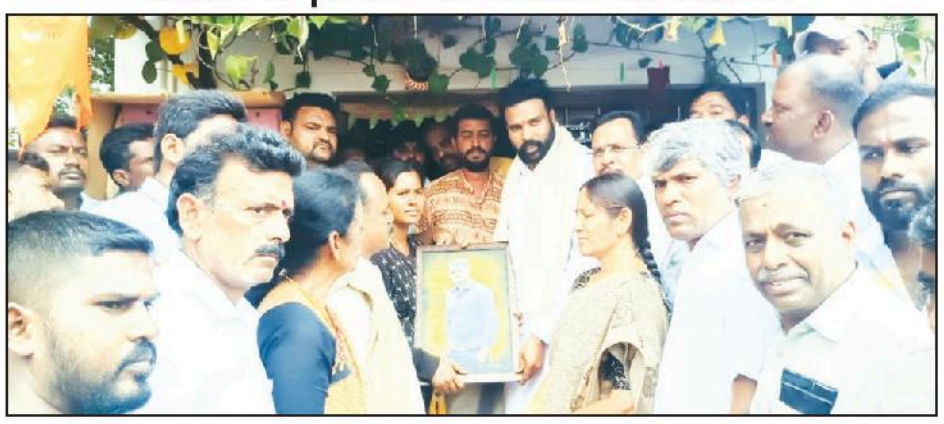
Pro-Hindu activists facing threat after Congress came to power in State: Sriramulu



Former Minister visits house of Yuva Brigade activist Venugopal Nayak who was killed in T. Narasipur recently

Mysuru, July 13 (BS) - Former Minister B. Sriramulu has said "The pro-Hindu activists should be alert as a conspiracy is at play to eliminate them. The activists are facing threat after the new Congress Government came to power in the State."

Venugopal Nayak

Sriramulu spoke to media persons at T. Narasipur yesterday after calling on the next of kin of Yuva Brigade activist Venugopal Nayak who was murdered recently over a scuffle that erupted during Hanuma Jayanti.

"Ever since the Congress Government assumed power, 16 pro-Hindu activists have been killed so far. On one hand a Jain monk is killed in Belagavi, while on the other hand a pro-Hindu worker is killed in Bengaluru. There is no security to the life of people with the law and order going for a toss in the State. The activists are being killed daily pointing fingers on the style of functioning of Chief Minister and Home Minister. If such killing is happening in Chief Minister's home turf, what about the situation in the State," said Sriramulu.

Congress was desperate for power and now being at the helm, they are instigating others to commit such heinous acts. What was the motive behind murdering Venugopal who was a common man involved in a pro-Hindu organisation. What would they even achieve by committing such killings? asked Sriramulu.

Referring to the statement of a Congress leader that 'BJP is doing politics over dead body,' Sriramulu said "BJP doesn't have such mindset, as it is the duty of all to raise the voice when a public is meted out injustice, in the democratic country. What was the fault of Venugopal? Was he involved in any anti-social activities? He was killed for the only reason that he organised Hanuma Jayanti. If his call detail records are verified, whoever was in his touch and on whose provocation he was murdered, everything will come out."

BJP Mysuru District President Mangala Somashekar, T. Narasipur Taluk President K.C. Lokesh Nayak, T. Narasipur BJP leader Dr. Revanna, Councillor S.K. Kiran, N. Lokesh, K. Nanjunda Swamy, Byrapura Balu, Rangunayak, Venkataramana Shetty, Karohatti Mahadevaiah, Yuva Brigade worker Ramanujam, Maradipura Nagaraju, retired PSI Mahadeva Nayaka, Mugur Jayanna and other BJP leaders were present.

WORD OF THE DAY

Abscond

Pronunciation: ab-SKAHND.
Meaning: To abscond is to leave, flee, or escape a place in secret and go into hiding.
Origin: In "Take the Money and Run," a 1976 earworm by the Steve Miller Band, the singer punctuates a song about teenage bandits with the catchy refrain "Go on, take the money and run." Granted, the song probably wouldn't have charted had it been titled "Abscond," but the meaning would have been the same. Abscond is a word most often used in formal writing for when someone is running and hiding from the law, often with cash or other ill-gotten gains. In legal circles it's used specifically when someone flies like an eagle from a jurisdiction to evade the legal process, as in "absconded from parole." The history of abscond doesn't evade scrutiny: it comes from the Latin verb abscondere, meaning "to hide away." (That word's root is condere, meaning "to conceal.") Today, whether some joker absconds by going to the country to bury some treasure or by taking a jet airliner beyond the law's reach, they are, in essence, hiding themselves away.
Example: "Squirrels snarf hard taco shells, and abscond with Nutella jars; subway rats chow down on pizza, while seagulls have ripped fries and even a KFC wrap straight out of human mouths." — Katherine J. Wu

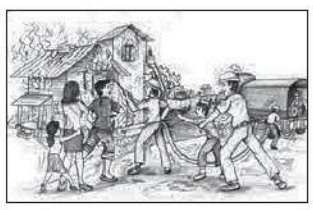
PHRASE OF THE DAY

A house is not a home



Meaning: This English proverb draws the distinction between a bricks and mortar house and a caring domestic dwelling with memories and a feeling of belonging.
Origin: This expression has been used several times in recent popular culture and the origin might be imagined to be whichever of those was heard first. We can't be sure when the proverb was first used but we do know where - all the early uses are American. In 1953, the American writer Polly Adler used the term as the title of her autobiography. In 1964, Bacharach and David wrote a song with the same title, which was a hit for Dionne Warwick. More recently, in 1981, Luther Vandross also had a hit with the song. No one is exactly sure of the first coinage of 'a house is not a home' but the first version known of in print comes from the American writer and women's rights advocate Margaret Fuller and it may well be that she coined it herself. Her early pro-feminist work Woman in the Nineteenth Century was published in 1845, containing this opinion: A house is no home unless it contains food and fire for the mind as well as the body.
